

CAMPUS STATION'S NEW CONSOLE

THE NEW WNTC CONSOLE, being operated by the skilled hand of Ken Herman. The console is designed to aid program reception and includes many conveniences for the control room operators.

Campus Radio Now Using New Console

Operating once more with a full time schedule, Campus Station WNTC has installed and is using its new ultra-modern console. Work is now going forward on the station's new transmitter, and it is hoped that this second new unit will be ready for usage in the near future.

To aid their live program talent the station has been trying to install a piano, but difficulties have been encountered in gaining entrance to the studio. The station's engineers will labor this week-end in a new attempt to install this added convenience.
